“We covenant one with another to seek and respond to the Word and the will of God. We agree to walk together in the ways of the Lord, made known and to be made known to us. We hold it to be the mission of the Church to witness to the Gospel of Jesus Christ in all the world, while worshipping God, and striving for truth, justice, and peace. As in the past, we depend on the Holy Spirit to lead and empower us. We pray for the coming of the kingdom of God, and we look with faith toward the triumph of righteousness and eternal life.”

Call to Worship

Leader: Even when we are down, God loves us as if we were flying high. When we come in last God loves us as if we won first prize. When our efforts are for God . . .

People: God is on our side.

Leader: It does not matter what your job is or where you went to school or the grade you got on that test as long as our minds are with God . . .

People: God is on our side.

Leader: It does not matter where you are from, it does not matter whom you choose to love, it does not matter how you express your faith when your love comes from God . . .

People: God is on our side.

Prayer of Invocation and Unison Lord's Prayer ("trespasses")

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever, amen.

Children's Message

After the Children's Message, children and youth are invited to follow Laurie out for a time of Faith Formation on the 2nd and 3rd floor. Our volunteer, Manu, is in the nursery. There is audio in there or the service is streamed to Fellowship Hall. Adults are welcome to accompany the kids, help them get settled and stay or return to worship. Children in Preschool up through 2nd grade need to be signed out by an authorized person at 11:30am.

God has made us all a rainbow.

Colors dancing 'round and 'round.

In our hair and skin and eyes, big and little, every size,

God has made us all a rainbow dancing 'round.

Jesus loves the little children,

All God's children of the world.

Whether young or old or new, Jesus loves us through and through

Teaching us to love all creatures in the world.

Go now in peace. Never be afraid.
God will go with you each hour of every day.
Go now in faith, steadfast, strong and true.
Know God will guide you in all you do.
Go now in love, and show you believe.
Reach out to others so all the world can see.
God will be there, watching from above.

Twenty-fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Exodus 16:2-15

Tensions in the Wilderness

After fleeing a pharaoh and his soldiers; after escaping plagues and securing safety for their children; after being given no time to pack; and no time to gather enough of anything, food or water, one can hardly blame the Israelites for being a little crabby. In this instance, they're so crabby they even suggest that dying back home in Egypt might have been preferable to having come all this way to die of hunger in the desert. And, of course, they don't think about how they might help find food or water. Instead, they blame Moses. Poor Moses. Damned if he does and damned if he doesn't. In this case, God steps in and saves the day and rains manna for the people to eat.

Sometimes leadership in our congregations are tired and worn. They face declining memberships and new members that don't seem as ready to take on the leadership positions that used to be easy to fill. No one wants to come to committee meetings and volunteer in the ways that used to keep our congregations humming. We've been walking around in the desert and we're hungry. Wouldn't it be great if manna would fall from the sky and our pews would be full? Magical thinking is always attractive. Blaming leaders is easy. Wishing for the past is simple. Just as the Israelites wanted to blame Moses and Aaron for their troubles, we local church folks often keep blaming everybody and everything. We blame working Moms. We blame school sports that practice and play on Sundays. We blame society. We blame a pastor who doesn't preach inspiring, riveting, home-spun, wise and genuine (including jokes) sermons every Sunday. But sometimes manna won't come—at least not without a caveat, not without some thought. Even the Israelites must follow rules to eat the food God showers on them.

There is a tool prepared by the United Church of Christ on all our behalf (NOTE: It's not a magic wand). However, it's like manna in that it won't go away and it needs us to gather it up. This tool is called the "Local Church Profile," and it has been prepared in conversation with local pastors and conferences. It is especially intended for churches to use when they are in transition between pastors, but congregations are encouraged to work on this profile every five years. It helps congregations ask questions about themselves; about how they worship; about the way they organize their life together; about their communities; about their neighbors; about what they believe. Jesus walked the countryside asking questions, sharing his beliefs, healing and serving those in need. He called people to do likewise, and he didn't stay in one place. He kept moving. The Local Church Profile is a way for us, lost as we might feel in a wilderness, to keep moving.
